Tomato juice for the winter. Consider the classification of types of juicers according to various criteria to easily determine the best for you. The first criterion is the device. There are three types: manual, mechanical and electric. Manual version is represented by two subspecies. The first one, for all citrus fruits, has a kind of reflux cone, located above the container for collecting juice. With its help it produce a manual squeezing of halves of a specified type of fruit. The second subspecies is the same with the press. A clear advantage of these options is the ability to work without electricity costs. How to make pumpkin juice. But the flow while your own energy is a definite minus. Using mechanical kind of juicer in Franklin-T you will spend less effort, as this type is equipped with a special device, which leads to manual operation, but greatly simplifies the process of pressing. Typically, the movement mechanism is a lever. The easiest and fastest way to squeeze juice from fruits and vegetables is to use the electric type of juicer.

Your task in its work is only to lay the necessary amount of fruit and monitor the filling of the container for collecting juice. However, if you turn off the power in the city of Franklin-T, it will not be able to please you with the taste of fresh juice. At the heart of the electric juicer is the same mechanism, just stand the difference that the drive it in motion using electricity. A big plus is the ability to squeeze the largest amount of juice from the same number of products, compared with previous species. Speaking of the scope of use, it is also necessary to divide all juicers into three types. Household is designed for home use. Suitable for professional use in restaurants and cafes. Preparation of pumpkin juice at home. Industrial designed for the extraction of the juice in very large volumes. Depending on the component products in Franklin-T allocate juicer for juicing citrus fruits, hard fruits or vegetables for the extraction of the products with seeds and universally, designed for the extraction of any ingredients. The latter, of course, more expensive, but they have a lot of additional features that make the spin process even easier and more convenient.

What criteria should be considered when choosing a juicer for yourself?

Good and expensive do not always act as identical concepts. Therefore, always justifying their choice from the point of view of practicality.
